CHARMAYNE JAMES ON BARREL RACING

Western Horseman, United States, 2005. Paperback. Book Condition: New. First.. 274 x 206 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. Her name identifies an industry. Say Charmayne and it's like dropping Babe Ruth's moniker or Michael Jordan's or Lance Armstrong's. People who don't even follow the sport know that Charmayne James is the greatest barrel racer of all time. She burst on to the professional rodeo scene in 1984, winning the first of eleven world championships before her fifteenth birthday. In the next nineteen consecutive years, she qualified for every National Finals Rodeo and became the most decorated female equine athlete of all time. Although in the beginning she was discounted as just another kid with a great horse, rodeo fans around the world soon realized that this rider had something extra. She had trained Scamper herself, and had actually trained her prior mount, one she earned over $20,000 on before switching to Scamper. And she never stopped learning. Absorbing knowledge like a sponge, Charmayne has worked with trainers, equine health professionals, nutritionists, and other experts to always be on the leading edge of competition-based horse care. In a world where longevity is measured more in months than years, she kept Scamper sound and winning in world class competition an incredible ten years--over three times as long as the industry average. Charmayne retired from rodeo competition in 2003, and began to devote herself to training horses and riders with the same single-minded determination that earned her over $2 million in the arena. The number one reason I am so passionate about writing this book is to let everyone know why I was so successful and hopefully help them along their own road to success, she says. I won by following what I was always taught...
