The new Woodsville Bridge of the Boston and Maine Railroad carries a single track and a highway across the Connecticut River, connecting the villages of Woodsville, N. H. , and Wells River, Vt. It crosses the channel at a narrow point with a single span of 239 feet. The bridge is especially interesting on account of its details, because it is the sixth structure which has been built at this point and because it was the first bridge from the mouth crossing the river with a single span. The railroad track is about 45 feet above water level and the water is from 22 to 40 feet deep. The bridge was designed and its construction directed by the Engineering Department of the Boston and Maine Railroad, Mr. H. Bissell, Chief Engineer, and Mr. J. P. Snow, Bridge Engineer. Mr. John W. Storrs, Assistant Engineer, was in charge of erection and inspection. The American Bridge Company was the contractor for the superstructure and Messrs. Ellis and Buswell, of Woburn, Mass. , were the contractors for the substructure. The bridge is protected from corrosion with Dixons SilicaGraphite Paint, Natural Color. OURIOUS LETTERS.
