Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from His Wife s Place As indicated on the cover of this pamphlet, the Playmaker Plays represent the collaboration of the Dakota Playmakers, the dramatic organization at the University of North Dakota, and the University course in Dramatic Composition, offered first by Professor Frederick H.Koch in 1915, and for the past two years by the editor of this series. These plays make no pretensions to surpassing excellence in the various elements of dramatic writing. They are merely little experiments done as laboratory work in a course which has as its chief purpose, not the immediate fashioning of playwrights, so much as the steady recruiting of the ranks of those who can appreciate drama from each of the several angles of appreciation. The purpose behind publication in this case is the supplying of high-school societies and other amateur groups in the territory which this University serves, with these examples of native drama. This purpose had its birth in frequent queries, from outsiders who had seen or heard of the University productions, or from graduated Playmakers who had taken part in them, as to whether or not the plays were available for general use. They were not. Quite commonly there was no extant copy of the play in question. It will be impossible to include in this series any of the plays written previous to 1918-19, among them some excellent ones, because the manuscripts are not now available. It is a source of warm satisfaction to the editor that literally scores of citizens of this state will feel a deep and living interest in these plays, for having either written them or acted in them, or for bearing...
