Excerpt: . . . with which these hereditary conspirators against freedom, honest administration, and the purity of party--our hereditary corruptionists--much to the resurrection of that putrescent old hulk--the Democratic Party. No party but the Democratic party ever resorted to compulsory partisan assessments. No party but the Democratic party ever inflicted the penalty of dismissal from office upon the unfortunate Government official, who failed or refused or was unable to liquidate this arbitrary party tax at the command of the insatiable Democratic tax gatherer; but this practice, as corrupt and demoralizing as it was tyrannical originating with the Democracy, was inexorably enforced by that party and its organs in the national, State, and local legislatures. It is under their control throughout those fifty years of misrule which Pendleton, in the Senate, so highly eulogized. Every principle of the Republican party revolts at such a practice. Its whole history is one of conflicts with such practices, and its only parallel in history is to be found in the attitude of George Wm. Curtis and the so called Civil Service Reformers in their campaign against the Republican party in support of the violent and corrupt Democratic bulldozer. These political purists, these pretenders to reform of the Civil Service--the Pendletons, rich in the spoils of rotten railroad claims; the S. S. Coxes, elected by Tammany through the very agencies or practices they denounce, arbitrary and compulsory partisan assessments of municipal employees of their cities or districts, with Geo. Wm. Curtis, all work...
