Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Sketches of Incidents and Adventures: In the Life of Thomas Elworth, the American Pedestrian Prefaces are seldom read. It has been observed that the only use of them is to point out what ought to be in a book, rather than to convey an idea of what it really contains. I am disposed to follow the universal fashion, however, because I wish those who read the following pages, may understand the author s reasons for writing, and his expectations in publishing what has been written. To proceed regularly, I will divide this brief discourse into two parts. Firstly: The author s reasons for writing. His life has been one of continual motion from the age of ten years, up to the present time. He has travelled extensively on the land and on the sea; has encountered many perils, enjoyed many rich scenes; and has an experience of many moving incidents, by flood and field, which for interest and variety, is seldom equalled even in a long life. Added to this, the performance of two great pedestrian feats, has brought him conspicuously before the public, and made for him many friends. At their especial request, he has been induced to pen these few pages. Secondly: His expectations in publishing. He does not expect to receive literary fame by this publication. He cannot boast scholastic dignity. He has not even enjoyed the advantages of our common schools; therefore it would be folly for him to claim equal attention with professional book-wrights. He does expect, however, to receive credit for industry, activity and usefulness. All these particulars go to make up the character of a good citizen. And...
