This pdf is definitely not easy to get started on studying but quite entertaining to read through. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

Excerpt from Way of Revelation: A Novel of Five Years Time had wrought changes, the unknown future held many more; but no change had ever altered the face of the fluttering crowd. It is true that all had passed out in their turn - with their generation: the newsboys, the filles de joie, the commonplace ones, the strange-looking men. Many had passed out before their turn: nobody knew; nobody cared. Individuality does not count here. It is sufficient that the crowd remains, that the winged archer poised above his fountains in the heart of Piccadilly Circus remarks no pause in the ebb and flow, no dimming of his brilliant halo, no foreboding of an impending judgment upon humanity. Two young men attired for the evening were strolling from the direction of the Empire Music Hall towards Piccadilly. They were due to meet a party of friends at a ball at 11.15 precisely; and were late. Not that it mattered to be late for a ball; the friends would probably be late, too. It was altogether fashionable to be late; it was fatal to be punctual. At the portals of the great Hotel Astoria, in the heart of Piccadilly, a long line of motor-cars disclosed successive pairs of lamps stretching down that thoroughfare towards Hyde Park Corner. Each, as it drove up, discharged its four, five, or six occupants, and, amid the exhortations of enormous uniformed porters and policemen, passed on. The two young men pushed through a circular moving doorway into a brilliantly lighted foyer, mirrored almost the whole way round and leading to a large, less brilliantly lighted winter-garden or palm court, beyond which steps led up to a kind of dais...
