Cutting Edge Press. Hardback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, The Tattooist, Louise Black, Imagine a man who will be anything you want. Who will listen attentively to every word you say and intuit everything you don't. A man willing to explore all the dark corners of your body and your mind. A man who wants only your pleasure - Such is the charm of Fabrice, a tattooist toiling away in his own dark world in Paris. A modern alchemist, Fabrice is seeking perfection through transformation. He knows how to attract women, and he knows how to love them, but Fabrice wants total submission: if he can dissolve a woman's ego, melt it down, he will find gold. One fine spring, Fabrice meets three wildly different women who have one thing in common: their vulnerability. Zairah, a trainee lawyer from a bourgeois family who have not yet spotted that she is bulimic, is shocked but intrigued when Fabrice first shows her his lighter with the picture of an alien sodomising a big-breasted woman on it. Falling for him is the best thing that has ever happened to her -- and the worst. Yoshiko is fresh from Japan, rebelling against her formal background and overbearing father. She has a lot to learn about the French language and western culture, and is pitifully lonely. How is she to know that Fabrice's attentions have nothing to do with what happens in a real, grown-up relationship? Xanthe opens her arms to Fabrice to obliterate the memory of her abusive ex-boyfriend. She drinks too much and is heading for a breakdown, mastering her pain with a pharmaceutical pick-and-mix. Could she be the one? Will Fabrice strike gold with Zairah, Yoshiko or Xanthe? How far does debasement have to go before someone becomes so lost that they...
