Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Arctic Dispatches: Containing an Account of the Discovery of the North-West Passage At length the great geographical question of the North-West Passage is solved. At length the oft repeated attempt of above three centuries is crowned with success. Thanks to the daring of her intrepid seamen, England has achieved her favourite project, and that a passage by sea, north of America, between Davis and Behring Straits, is actually to be made, no longer admits of doubt. It has been performed by Captain M Clure in command of the Investigator, one of whose officers. Lieutenant Cresswell, is now in England. How many of England s brave and hardy seamen have been successively repulsed in this attempt; how many have yet penetrated beyond their predecessors and wrested from the barriers of eternal frost another, and yet another, small portion of geographic lore, have braved the perils of a snow-clad ocean and this in spite of all the terrors of the Arctic winter That holds with icy grasp the Polar world in bonds of perpetual frost? Let the long list of names in history s page, from the times of Willoughby and Frobisher down to those of Parry and Franklin, bear faithful yet painful record. At length, we repeat, the feat is accomplished, and though all have returned and might have justly said with Baffin I have seen what mine eyes fain would not have seen, when he reported the continuity of land at the head of Baffin Bay, yet it has been left for M Clure to profit by the energy of Parry, and to give the final answer to the long agitated question, There is...
