Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Moral Dilemma of Nuclear Weapons: Essays From Worldview, a Journal of Religion and International Affairs This volume is the first collection of essays from worldview, the monthly journal of opinion that is now entering its sixth year of publication by the Council on Religion and International Affairs. As these essays are concerned to develop various approaches to a common subject, namely, the moral implications of modern nuclear warfare, they reflect the larger purpose of worldview, which is to determine what ethical guides, derived from the body of religious insight that is frequently referred to as the Judeo-Christian tradition, may be relevant to the problems of politics on an international level. The writers of these essays make no attempt to solve the problem of nuclear weapons. They do attempt to engage in a consideration of the role of the statesman as he faces this most crucial and agonizing question, and to evaluate alternatives of thought and action which are, in the words of one of the participants, morally responsible and politically wise. This series was inaugurated in the December, 1958 issue of worldview and was concluded in the October, 1960 issue. Political scientists, theologians, military analysts and journalists - realists and pacifists - joined and extended the discussion. As no attempt was made to enforce the more formal rules of debate, some of the participants wrote in direct challenge or response to previous contributions, while others preferred to state an independent viewpoint. The remarks in the section entitled Postscripts were contributed especially for publication in this pamphlet and appear here for the first time. A paper delivered at Princeton by George F. Kennan (reprinted in this...
